And What Have You

By BOB CRAIG

Since we have been working all summer on the building formerly occupied by Jess Young Cleaners, the question asked most often seems to be "when are you going to move?" or else it is "have you moved yet?" The answer to the first, obviously, is no, and the answer to the second is --we don't know.

We were discussing our progress with Olin Amerson in the drug store the other day, when he asked if we knew yet when we were going to get moved. We told him the only thing we knew was that we were a day closer than we were the day before.

He said, as a rancher, he was in the same position. He knew that he had one day's less grazing than he had the day before and that he was one day closer to a rain but he just did not know when that day would be.

If we had known that this summer was going to be so hot, it is doubtful we would have undertaken the job of remodeling a building at all. If things go right, it looks now like we will be moving the Herald and all of the equipment sometime around the first.

We dread the thought of moving but it will be such a relief not to be remodeling that it may not be as bad as we think.

It is possible that by the time this sees print the Legislature will have come up with a tax bill that can gain the approval of both houses and the governor. But it will be surprising if this happens, since the two houses seem to be taking different approaches to the problem.

While the House seems to favor direct consumer taxes such as the sales tax increase, the Senate leans more to hidden taxes that fall first on business.

Since no one favors more taxes we can see where politically it would be more popular to go for the hidden taxes than to pass a direct tax, but question the wisdom of this approach.

No matter where the tax is placed the ultimate user is going to pay the tax bill in the long run and quite often by the time it gets to him it has been marked up a few times so that not only does the state get its money but the middlemen also take their cut.

The West Texas Chamber of Commerce Board of Directors passed a resolution this past weekend endorsing direct or "open" taxes rather than indirect or "hidden" taxes. They maintained that the ultimate payment of taxes is made by the people of Texas and they are entitled to be aware of and "know" the taxes which they are paying for the various state operations and services.

A newspaper friend of ours, Douglas Meador of Matador, writes a weekly column of paragraphs that have received national recognition. He had one in last week's paper that seemed well worth passing along.

"The widest possible gap in achievement is that men have left footprints on the moon, while so many millions of us have not been able to make any kind of impression on the earth."

Another one of his paragraphs that does not carry the message of the first one it is a beautiful play of words.

"Slabs of heat were laid solidly in the white and cloudless sky, and the wind was an invisible flame that sought every crevice in the day. The earth twisted like a piece of bacon frying and the wheel of a windmill stood motionless in a world begging for water. There was noise in the small room as a device produced coolness; a fragile thing holding back the mighty pressure of scorching heat until whimsical nature is willing to relent."

Neinda Philosopher Expands On Some People's Notion of What the Dullest Jobs On Earth Are

Editor's note: The Neinda Philosopher on his Johnson grass farm on Route One reflects on various dull jobs this week, mostly from a theoretical viewpoint.

Dear editor:

I was reading a three-weeks-old copy of The Reporter-News yesterday, when a man is confronted with the job of fixing a fence in the middle of August he'll read anything he can get his hands on, and ran into an article that said that "picking grapes in the blazing sun is one of the dullest jobs a man can have."

I have never picked grapes, unless you count pulling off one or two from a bunch in the grocery store just to sample, and don't intend to, just as I don't intend to do a lot of things around this Johnson grass farm, on the theory that a public-spirited man, recognizing that everybody is entitled to a job, will leave some work for the next generation.

But I got to thinking. What is the dullest job a person can have, in or out of the blazing sun?

Even if it is out of the weather, I've never been able to imagine a monotonously duller job than acting two afternoons and six nights a

A PLACE TO PRAY

Man can, and should, pray anywhere. God has placed no limitations on his communing with him.

Our Lord has said, "... Ask and ye shall receive." God listens when we seek him, no matter where, however he desires that we gather together in prayer too. "... mine house shall be called an house of prayer for all people."

• • •

The Church is God's appointed agency in this world for spreading the knowledge of His love for man and of His demand for man to respond to that love by loving his neighbor. Without this grounding in the love of God, no government or society or way of life will long persevere and the freedoms which we hold so dear will inevitably perish. Therefore, even from a selfish point of view, one should support the Church for the sake of the welfare of himself and his family. Beyond that, however, every person should uphold and participate in the Church because it tells the truth about man's life, death and destiny; the truth which alone will set him free to live as a child of God.

Bringing New Life to the Country

Two years ago this plant site was a lone-some stretch of barren land with little to recommend it. But it had low cost electricity from a rural electric cooperative and when a road made the land accessible the building began.

All over Texas this story is being repeated nearly every month. The first question is the availability of low cost electric power. When it is furnished by Midwest Electric Cooperative the answer is a dependable yes.

The first class service offered by the Midwest Electric Cooperative is helping Texas grow.

AUSTIN — Legislature is roaring through the final full week of a called special session with accomplishment of its major goals — adoption of a budget and a tax bill — in sight.

Senate — An increase in the sales tax rate from three to 3.25 per cent with the levy extended to beer-liquor and telephone-telegraph services; four cents a pack increase in the cigarette tax, from 11 cents to 15 cents; 50-cent raise in corporation franchise tax rate ($3.25 per $1,000) with base for computing the tax expanded to include 25 per cent of out-of-state sales; boost in the natural gas production tax from seven to eight per cent and addition of a new documentary stamp tax of 50 cents per $500 value on land transfer documents.

House — An increase in the sales tax rate to 3.5 per cent; a new services tax of the same amount on telephone and telegraph, professional entertainment, auto, appliance and jewelry repairs, parking, laundry and dry cleaning; a five cents a pack raise in the cigarette tax and a 10-cent transaction levy on sale or purchase of stocks and other securities.

Total yield of the House bill was calculated at about $325 million. Senate bill originally was figured at $360 million, but a delay in its effective date may reduce the take sharply.

Senate bill would share with those cities levying a local option sales tax the new income from tax on telephone and telegraph and alcoholic beverages. House bill did not propose such sharing from services levy.

Differences in the $1.2 billion Senate and $1.1 billion House general revenue budgets also are being hastily adjusted.

WELFARE BENEFITS TO RISE — Proving that what comes down eventually will go up, state welfare benefits will increase September 1.

Aid to Families with Dependent Children (AFDC), sharply reduced May 1 due to fund shortages, will rise at least 50 per cent.

DOES ANYONE LIKE BEING
50 YEARS OLD???

WE DO. We like to think that being 50 years old is meaningful—not to ourselves alone—but to those we serve and hope to serve. We think it demonstrates some qualities that have value in any enterprise, and especially in ours—Qualities like Integrity—Dependability—Quality—and Service which have played such a large part in our getting to be 50 Years Old. We are Proud to have been around to serve you these many years.
